

STATE AT WORK
TO TEAR DOWN
DEFENSE'S CASE

Imposing Structure of Innocence Built Up By Arbuckle
ARE NOT DISMAYED
State Attaches Great Importance To Final Statement.

San Francisco, Nov. 29.—The state was confronted today with the task of pulling down an imposing structure of innocence built by counsel defending Roscoe ("Fatty") Arbuckle, charged with manslaughter, the keystone of which was the simple, yet flawless story told on the witness stand by the defendant himself.

In rebuttal the state may attack only such evidence as was presented by the defense. And so skillfully did the defense build their case that there is but little left to attack. By eliminating character witnesses, the defense left no loop hole through which the state might bring in tales of other gay parties to confound the obese comedian.

The state has some forty rebuttal witnesses, including Mrs. Catherine Fox of Chicago. She will, it is understood, refute testimony of defense witnesses to the effect that in her early days in the Windy City, Virginia Rappe displayed a propensity to tear off her clothing when attacked by violent pains.

District Attorney Brady and his associates were in no way dismayed today over the showing made by Arbuckle on the stand.

They attached great importance to the final statement drawn from Arbuckle by Assistant District Attorney Friedman. "Did you tell any one on the fifth day of Sept., in these rooms at the St. Francis hotel, any one at all, that you had found Miss Rappe lying between the large bed and the small bed in room 1219 apparently writhing in pain," asked Friedman.

"No," replied Arbuckle.

"When was the first time you told anybody that you had found Miss Rappe in the bathroom of room 1219?" queried the prosecutor.

"I told Mr. Dominguez," replied Arbuckle, "when I was put in jail, I told him the whole story."

BREACH BETWEEN FRANCE AND GREAT BRITAIN WIDENS

Accord Existing Between Countries Near Dissolution.

London, Nov. 29.—The accord existing between Great Britain and France is on the point of dissolution, according to a statement in the Daily Express today.

The Daily Express made a great display of the report, putting the responsibility on Marquis Curzon, the British foreign secretary. The newspaper demanded the resignation of the foreign secretary.

Relations between Great Britain and France have been strained for some time, particularly since the French entered into a treaty with the Turkish nationalists.

WILL BE SETTLED

Chicago, Nov. 29.—Prospect of a settlement of the Pennsylvania Railroad shop crafts controversy, on which the road was cited to appear before the U. S. railroad labor board Oct. 16, to determine whether it had violated rulings of the board, was seen in a conference here yesterday between C. B. Helserman of Philadelphia, general counsel, and Chairman R. M. Barton of the board.

At the time of the hearing it was thought in railroad circles that, on the evidence, the board would be compelled to render a decision that the road had violated a previous order to hold an election of employees representatives with whom to negotiate rules.

The road had made no move to carry out the board's ruling and confined its defense to the legal argument that the ruling was without the board's jurisdiction.

SIX BOOTLEGGERS

New York, Nov. 29.—Six alleged bootleggers were arrested today following a revolver fight with police in a launch in the East river. More than fifty shots were fired. The prisoners, in a 25 foot launch, used sacks of bottled liquor as a barricade, the police said. Three hundred bottles of rum were seized.

Lloyd George Will Limit
Size of Audiences In U.S.

Premier Will Not Speak to More Than 5,000 People at Time Due to Fear His Voice Will Not Stand Strain—Has Throat Trouble.

London, Nov. 29.—Premier Lloyd George is looking forward to some public speaking if he goes to the United States next month but on one condition. The premier does not want to appear before an audience of more than five thousand persons.

"If I am asked to address any gathering in America, you must stipulate that the audience shall not exceed 5,000," Mr. Lloyd George today told Sir Edward Grigg, his principal private secretary. Sir Edward will accompany the premier if he sails.

The reason for this decision is two fold: In the first place he knows the limitations of his voice; and, secondly, he thinks that any speaker, facing a huge audience loses all sense of intimacy with his hearers.

Lloyd George has been much worried about his voice for several years or ever since he was attacked by throat and bronchial trouble. Ten years ago he was at his best when addressing a crowd of 10,000 persons in the open air. Now he prefers to speak in the restricted space of the house.

Some time ago when he first began to think that his voice was losing its old-time resonance, the premier went to a well known teacher of elocution and took fresh lessons from her. Since then, at every meeting of any size, where he has been speaking, this woman has been present, in the background and has faithfully reported to him on the carrying quality of his voice.

In the absence of his mentor, Lloyd George will take no risks in America. Before speaking in public he will make certain that his voice will be clearly audible to all and will have nothing to do with mechanical sound amplifiers.

FLOODS MENACE CITIES:
PITTSBURGH AFFECTED

Pittsburgh, Nov. 29.—Seventy-two hours of almost continuous rain—succeeded in some localities by a heavy fall of snow which rapidly melted, brought a score of rivers and large streams in western Pennsylvania and West Virginia to dangerous flood stages by noon today and reports from many towns which are either already partly submerged or in danger of being flooded showed that everywhere the angry waters are slowly rising.

Heavy damage is being done everywhere but so far there have been no deaths reported.

The Monongahela river has risen to unusual stages from its head waters back in West Virginia to its junction with the Allegheny at Pittsburgh. Brownsville, and a score of other up river towns are hit hard. At McKeesport the situation is growing graver every minute. The Youghiogheny river flows into the Monongahela at McKeesport and both rivers are on a rampage. Reports at noon said a rise of a few more inches and the great steel and tin plants would have to close down making thousands idle.

The Allegheny river, one of the tributaries of the Ohio, is still rising. Numerous towns above Pittsburgh are beginning to be flooded. These are steel industrial towns. From Pittsburgh to Parkersburg, W. Va., the Ohio river is one mad torrent and its waters rising steadily but a little more slowly now. Half a hundred towns down the river will be in serious shape by midnight. Wheeling, W. Va., apparently will suffer the worst and a large part of the business and residential section will be under water if the United States weather bureau's forecast of a 36 foot stage is realized.

East Liverpool, Ohio, Nov. 29.—With the Ohio river rapidly rising, people residing in the lowlands here were preparing today to cope with a flood stage. The 29.6 foot mark—almost flood stage—was reached at 10 o'clock this morning. A 35-foot crest is expected before night.

Marietta, O., Nov. 29.—Although rains of the last 24 hours are expected to raise the Ohio and Muskingum rivers here to the 35 foot mark no apprehensions as to a dangerous flood stage are entertained.

High German and British Officials Consider Moratorium.

London, Nov. 29.—The advisability of Germany issuing a moratorium was under discussion today by high German and British officials.

The German officials in London include Dr. Simon and Walter Rathenau, former minister of reconstruction in the German cabinet. They conferred with Sir John Bradbury, British representative on the reparations commission and Sir Robert Horne, chancellor of the exchequer.

It was first believed that Simon was the foreign secretary who signed the indemnity ultimatum last May but it turned out that he is a German economic expert.

POSTPONE DAY OF FINAL SHOW
DOWN ON ACCEPTANCE OF U. S.
NAVAL PROPOSAL FOR 24 HOURS

Long-Expected Action of Japan On Suggestion of Secretary Hughes Scheduled to Come Up Tuesday, But Postponed on Request of Foreign Delegation.

Washington, Nov. 29.—Withdrawal of the foreign troops in China was agreed upon in principle by the committee on far eastern policies of the armament conference today.

Washington, Nov. 29.—The day of the final show down on acceptance of the American naval program was postponed 24 hours today at a request of "the foreign delegations."

The committee of naval experts of the five great powers was scheduled to meet at 10 o'clock for a final session regarding the capital ship ratio of 5-5-3, proposed by Secretary of State Hughes.

When the meeting hour arrived, it was announced that "one of the foreign powers" has requested a postponement of the session 24 hours.

The long expected show down as to whether Japan will or will not accept the American naval program, which permanently assigns her place to third place among the navies of the world, was knocking at the door of the conference today.

The experts have finished their work. They have wrestled with the figures in the Hughes program from every conceivable angle, and they have been unable to construe them in any other way than that Japan must accept or reject the ratio of 5-5-3 in capital ships. The Tokyo experts have advised their determination that a 10-10-7 ratio is absolutely necessary to Japan's national safety and her world position.

The belief prevails in Washington that Japan will accept the Hughes figures. American, British and "neutral" experts and observers expect to see the Japan ship put up a strong fight for the 10-10-7 ratio and in the end to yield as gracefully as possible under the circumstances and accept the 5-5-3 program.

While American experts and officials are not commenting publicly on the situation, privately they assert without hesitation that Japan must accept the 5-5-3 ratio if the conference is to continue.

So far as the Americans are concerned, they are quite willing to see the conference stand or fall on the capital ship issue. It is the bedrock foundation upon which the whole program was constructed. They do not anticipate its falling. The experts and delegates themselves are as one on this point.

The American attitude was thus outlined to the International News Service today:

"The issue is clear cut. We have proposed a program far more magnanimous than any American naval authorities consider justifiable. We propose to scrap two ships to every one that Japan scraps, both old and new. We have enough tonnage authorized to make the American navy the greatest in the world within a few years.

"Now we are voluntarily offering to sacrifice this leadership on the altar of world peace. They can either take it or leave it. And they won't leave it."

The impression prevails in some American quarters that Japan will hinge her acceptance of the 60 per cent ratio around several conditions. One of these is her retention of the battleship Mutsu. The latest and most powerful of her new vessels constructed under the eight and eight program. Another is that the fortifications of the Pacific at Manila, at Guam, and at Hawaii, be dismissed if she agrees to accept the ratio proposed.

Colonel Whittlesey Believed to Have Been Victim of War's Horror.

New York, Nov. 29.—Intimate friends of Colonel Charles W. Whittlesey, hero of the "lost battalion," in the world war, were convinced today that the ceremony of the burial of the unknown soldier at Arlington on Armistice day was the culminating cause of his mysterious disappearance from the United Fruit Liner Toloa, bound for Havana. Col. Whittlesey, one of the outstanding heroes of the war, was a pall bearer at that ceremony.

"For the last two years there has scarcely been an hour when the grief and horror of war have not been brought vividly before him," said Charles W. Little, a law partner.

"The culmination came at the ceremony at Arlington. He seemed unusually depressed ever since his return."

Frank Whittlesey, father of Colonel Whittlesey, was notified of his son's death by another son, Melva Whittlesey, who left New York for Pittsfield, Mass., immediately after word of the colonel's disappearance was received here by John B. Pruyne, an intimate friend, who was asked to notify relatives.

The only word conveyed by Messengers from Captain Grant of the vessel on which Col. Whittlesey left New York last Saturday morning was that he was missing from his stateroom and had left papers and one note, which said:

"I will not be back."

Friends today said they believed the war hero must have jumped overboard some time Sunday afternoon.

U. S. PUTS QUIETUS
ON CANCELLATION

Washington, Nov. 29.—The United States has put a final quietus on suggestions from foreign sources for cancellation of allied debts to this government, amounting now to about $11,000,000,000 including accrued interest. Authorized statements today from leading administration spokesmen left no further doubt that such appeals will meet with this government's disfavor, and, if made officially, they will be rejected firmly and promptly.

The statement made today from one of the most reliable government sources, repeated an earlier declaration from the White House that "cancellation of the debts is a thing 'inconceivable' at this or any future time."

ATTACK MADE ON LIFE OF CLEVELAND
PASTOR; ESCAPES

Family Not at Home When Attempt Made On Residence.

Cleveland, Nov. 29.—Police today are without a clue to the identity of the persons who last night made what is believed to have been an attack upon the life of Rev. W. W. Bustard, pastor of the Euclid Avenue Baptist Church and one of the best known clergymen in the middle west.

The watchman at the Bustard home on Shaker Heights was overpowered, telephone wires were cut, a window in the house was smashed and a gun battle with members of the Shaker Heights police force followed. Those concerned escaped.

Dr. Bustard and all members of his family were absent from home at the time.

The attack is believed to have been the outcome of public utterances made by Dr. Bustard upon conditions in Cleveland and a prediction made to a mass meeting Sunday night at Masonic Hall that Cleveland would be a "wide open" town for the next two years.

Prior to the election Dr. Bustard bitterly assailed Fred Kohler, mayor-elect, former chief of police and declared him unfit to hold office.

ROBERTS ELECTED TO HEAD SOLDIER
BONUS IN STATE

Youngstown Man Was Nominated for Commander of Legion

Columbus, Nov. 29.—Robert R. Roberts of Youngstown was elected director of the department of adjusted compensation yesterday at a meeting of the board of sinking fund commissioners.

The selection was unanimous after all candidates for the position had been discussed by the commissioners.

Roberts is chief clerk in the Carnegie Steel Co. plant at Youngstown. He enlisted at the outbreak of the war and served as a sergeant major with the 37th Division. He is about 33 years of age.

The salary has not been determined, but likely will be between $4,000 and $5,000. Roberts will be here soon to meet with the board. He may be sent to several bonus states to study their systems of administration.

Without political backing of any kind, Roberts was the second choice of all the members, apparently. State Auditor Tracy, Secretary of State Smith and Attorney General Price each was said to have had a choice of his own and after the deadlock unanimously chose Roberts.

State Senator Thomas W. Jones, was said to have had the support of Governor Davis. Other candidates considered were Charles H. Lindsey, auditor of the state highway department; E. B. Magruder, chairman of the Franklin County council of the American Legion, and Robert Haubrich, Columbus, vice state commander of the legion.

Colonel Simon M. Nash, Columbus, and Milton D. Campbell, Cincinnati, who had been mentioned for the place, asked that their names be not considered.

Roberts' selection is known to be pleasing to American Legion officials of Ohio. At the legion convention last fall at Toledo Roberts was nominated for commander but withdrew in favor of Charles L. Darlington, Xenia, who was elected.

TRIAL OF WOMAN
HELD FOR CRIME
NOW UNDER WAY

Jury Qualifies to Try Woman an for Murder of Girlhood Chum.

SCENE IS VISITED

State Asks for First Degree
Verdict In Opening Session.

Wheeing, W. Va., Nov. 29.—The jury which qualified last night in criminal court to try Mrs. Louise Conkle for the murder of her girlhood chum, Mrs. Pearl Williams, this morning visited the murder scene under direction of the court. The defendant walked with the jurymen from the courthouse to a custody of a deputy sheriff the dozen blocks to the Williams home where early on morning of October 29, she shot her to death because of alleged infatuation of the dead woman for Mr. Conkle. Mrs. Conkle, as in the opening day of the trial, disclosed no emotion and maintained the same confidence as she marked her demeanor since her arrest.

Opening statements were made by opposing counsel this morning, the state asking for a first degree murder verdict. In the examination of talesmen yesterday, particular stress was laid by the state in the matter of capital punishment and only those who had no scruples against imposition of the death penalty upon a woman were permitted to qualify.

Mrs. William Shade of Cleveland, a sister, is with the defendant constantly in court.

First witnesses to be called today by the state include police who were first called to the scene and Mrs. Frances Havercamp, a neighbor of the Williams woman, into whose home Mrs. Conkle walked following the shooting and calmly awaited the arrival of the police.

At the opening of court this morning, it was announced night sessions would be held to expedite the trial.

HEAVY DAMAGE
RESULT OF STORMS
IN NEW ENGLAND

Boston, Nov. 29.—A storm of sleet and snow that reached its height early yesterday and then turned to rain caused heavy damage across central New England.

Telephone and electric light services were most seriously affected. The collapse of ice-laden wires and poles causing interruptions that will take days to overcome. Suburbs north of Boston were without lights last night in most cases and at least 2,000 subscribers in those places without telephones. Telegraph companies also reported service breakdowns and street cars were stalled over a wide area north of this city.

The financial loss was estimated to exceed $2,000,000.

The few marine mishaps were not believed to be serious. The Pollock Rip Sloop Lightship, with 11 men aboard, was torn loose from its moorings by a northeast gale. It was thought she would be able to anchor safely under the lee of Cape Cod in Nantucket Sound. A three masted schooner was in trouble off Block Island, with the coast guard cutter Acushnet heading to her aid.

LANDRU WILL GO
FREE IT IS THOUGHT

Versailles, Nov. 29.—Unless Prosecutor Godefroy can produce more positive evidence that Henri Landru, alleged "blue beard" murdered ten women and a boy, Maitre Moro-Giafferi, defense council, believed today he would have a comparatively easy task in obtaining his client's acquittal.

The jury in the court of assizes, which until now has been more or less fully convinced of Landru's guilt, was surprised at the lack of proof presented by the prosecutor in his address to the jury.

During the prosecutor's address, Landru remained unmoved, continuing his practice of making notes for use when he addresses the court and jury in his own defense. The prosecutor turned repeatedly and pointed to Landru, calling him an "assassin without heart."

When Moro-Giafferi was given permission to plead he immediately withdrew the plea of insanity and asked that Landru be acquitted for lack of evidence.

Styles BY LENORE

Two distinct types of silhouette are equally fashionable this season.

There is the straight-line effect, with loose, or belted coat, to which so many women are devoted while others prefer the flared models which have been introduced by a number of the houses. The shorter coats, however are the most favored.

Tricotines and velours are still on fashion's slate. There is, too, a new material called trelaine, used for more expensive tailors, which is meeting with approval. Dark tangerine brown, redwood, tan and navy blue are the colors being used by the smartest designers.

In the sketch today I am showing a type of flare model of agreeable lines for the conservative woman. It is made of blue velour, with squirrel collar and pleasing detail, the panel effect in front and back being treated with black silk braid one-quarter inch wide.

TODAY'S TALKS

So many folks seem satisfied to take their stand in some particular spot, draw a circle around that spot, and live within the circle. Most of us forget that this is the only chance we'll have to live—on this earth, any way. Many of us don't even take the trouble to find out all the marvelous things that can be crowded into the years of our living here—if we will but adventure.

Don't get so deep down into a day groove that you can't jump out. Dodge the ruts—broaden out—adventure!

Don't "let well enough alone"—make well enough a whole lot better. "It might be worse"—but you can make it right and fine, if you try. So do a little adventuring.

There's travel—right in your own neighborhood, if you can't go further. There are folks. There are books, with their own new places and people. There are hobbies—get one, and follow it to its limit. There are thoughts You can adventure with them all, if you will.

And just as surely as the new broom sweeps clean, the same old brain and body you have tired of, when stirred up with Adventure, will create for you new Enthusiasm. For new Adventures.

They are Happy and Well

You Should Be the Same

A LARGE number of women's ailments are not surgical ones. Serious displacements or radical changes have not yet taken place.

A tiny part in a fine clock may become loose and cause the clock to gain or lose. If not attended to in time, the part may fall from its place and cause serious trouble. So it is with women's ailments, they start from simple causes; but if allowed to continue, produce serious conditions.

When the warning symptoms are first noted, take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to relieve the present troublesome ailment, and to prevent the development of serious trouble.

North Troy, N. Y.—"When I was a young girl I had a severe female trouble. Mother gave me Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and after taking several bottles I was strong and well. When my daughter got married she was feeling miserable and I recommended your medicine. She is greatly improved in health and has a beautiful baby boy four months old. So you see this letter comes from the third generation and you may use it as you wish."—Mrs. R. M. GREENAWAY, 557 4th Ave., North Troy, N. Y.

Hutchinson, Kan.—"I was about 13 years old when I developed a female weakness. My mother took me to a doctor and I doctored for several months. I was too sick to do anything, was as thin as could be, and my complexion was yellow. Mother had used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it had helped her so much that she got some for me and before I had finished the second bottle I was feeling fine and have been ever since."—Mrs. J. A. But Nerv-Worth Quickly Overcame This Trouble Along With Digestive Troubles.

"I was very nervous and run-down, and was troubled with a bad stomach," said W. F. Maher of 20 Locust St., Xenia, Ohio, a former railroad fireman, and he continues, "I suffered extreme pain after eating, and I bloated and had gas on my stomach. I couldn't sleep at night, and would wake at all hours suffering from pain. I have taken only two bottles of Nerv-Worth, and my stomach no longer bothers me. I sleep fine now, and have no more gas or bloating. I feel like a new man, and I certainly recommend Nerv-Worth." If you suffer from nervous or stomach disorders, or a run-down condition, the old reliable time-tested Nerv-Worth will give you help. If you are not satisfied after taking your first bottle, your druggist is authorized to refund your money.

WITNESSES TO TELL OF STILLMAN'S GAY LIFE IN FLORIDA

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Nov. 29.—As witnesses gathered here today to give vivid accounts of the gay life enjoyed in Florida by James Stillman and his wife, the trial of the "love nest" millionaire is said to have maintained for the show girl in New York and Long Island persons in close touch with Stillman declared that he will spring a last minute sensation.

As they predicted a surprise from the banker's side before the windup of the famous case, John E. Mack, guardian of Guy Stillman, announced that the 3-year old boy whose future and share in a ten-million-dollar estate are at stake may be introduced in the hearings here as a living "exhibit" to clinch evidence that he is a Stillman heir and not, as the banker claims, the son of Fred Beauvais the alleged Indian lover of his mother, Mrs. "Pifi" Stillman.

It is not believed the child will be permitted in the case as a legal "exhibit" but, it was pointed out, he cannot be prevented from coming into the hearing room and remaining there long enough to impress upon the referee what is said to be a striking resemblance to the millionaire who repudiates him.

FORMER HEAD OF EAGLES SPEAKS AT OPERA HOUSE

Making an appeal for charity and patriotism and especially for a national pension for the aged, and explaining the ideals, purposes and convictions of the Fraternal Order of Eagles, Del Cary Smith, Spokane, Washington attorney, and past grand worthy president of the Fraternal Order of Eagles for two terms, delivered an inspiring address to a small but appreciative audience at the Opera House Monday night.

Concerning the subject of a pension for the aged, Mr. Smith said: "There is another great movement of a humanitarian nature that this Order is now committed to, and that is an old age pension for those who by industry and frugality in younger years have earned this emolument. The Grand Aerie at the last annual convention held in the city of Newark, New Jersey, by a unanimous vote passed a resolution in favor of this great boon to the aged, and an appropriation was made to carry on an educational campaign to insure its ultimate adoption by the state and nation."

"The cardinal principle of this Order are the same as in the beginning. The name has never been changed and the four corner stones, Liberty, Truth, Justice and Equality, have never been displaced and human welfare, augmented by a greater knowledge of the needs of humanity, is the goal we are trying to reach. We recognize there is a natural law as immutable and inescapable as death itself. Every person born into this world must eat to live, must wear clothing and have a house to shelter him from the elements. This is elementary; it is the inexorable law of life. But we go further than this. We recognize that every man is a human being made in the image of God and two satisfy his hunger and clothe his body is not enough. His spiritual nature must be fed and clothed as well, and his God-given mind must be developed. Food and clothing will keep the body strong, but what are you going to do with the mind and soul?"

"All life is a struggle from the cradle to the grave. When we stand erect it is in defiance of the law of gravitation. The natural thing to do would be to lie down. But shall we not make the struggle for existence easier by saying to those, whose only misfortune is that they are old and poor, 'Well done good and faithful servant, enter into that unspeakable joy that will fill your soul, when the knowledge comes to you that the word 'pension' is not in our vocabulary and shall never be applied to you because with dignity and pride you can take from Uncle Sam's storehouse a part of that which you helped to place there."

"This is an age of world wide problems," continued the speaker, "and in spite of our boasted isolation, they affect us mightily and we cannot escape them. How shall we meet the problems that confront us in the wake of the Great World War, so many things appear that the mind cannot comprehend them all. Dynasties have crumbled and in the unfolding panorama we may see fugitive kings fleeing in terror to escape the wrath of people they once controlled. Divine right is dead. In Germany a member of the bourgeoisie, a butcher tradesman, is the executive head of the government and the former emperor is in exile. In Russia the Bolshevik stables his horses in the palace of the former Czar; the heir of the Hapsburgs is in voluntary exile and the Turk, no longer protected by the balance of power, is holding a precarious foothold in Constantinople. Unrest and uncertainty is everywhere. Even in our own land we have our problems and the twin ghosts of unemployment and hunger appear on the political horizon and like Banquo's ghost will not down. Politicians debate, yet not one of them is capable of suggesting a constructive plan to relieve the situation. If speeches could save us or if oratory could provide a remedy, the future would be secure. One thing appears sure, America made the world safe for democracy and the question remains unanswered: Can Democracy be made safe for the world? On the political horizon no Moses appears to lead the way out of the wilderness. In the olden days the pillar of fire and the cloud guided the Israelites to the promised land. World democracy is in confusion, distraught and demoralized by leaders who should themselves be led, and by counselors who are in need of counsel. What are we to do with these great problems? What about the unemployed millions, the unassimilated foreign element, the question of immigration, the negro problem, the Jap problem, the contempt and disregard of the law? It will take the best that is in us to meet the situation. We do well to approach these problems with a humble and contrite heart. We have ninety-six senators and nearly five hundred representatives, but few statesmen. Referring to the Eagles Order as a "child of the flag," and pointing out its patriotism and sacrifice, Mr. Smith closed with an inspiring appeal to patriotism in the county and love of flag and nation.

DINNER STORIES

The end of the baseball season was drawing near and, as had been the custom, the team from the local police force and a team from one of the lodges in town were playing their annual game of ball. A citizen who owned a fast motorcar was "umps." The wearers of the stars were at bat. Jim Clancy, a speed cop, had connected with a slow one which went short. It was a close play.

"You're out!" yelled the ump. "What! I was safe a mile," said Clancy.

"I said you're out," repeated the ump with emphasis, as he started toward his place back of the pitcher.

Clancy said something about robber, and needing glasses, when the umpire turned.

"Say, Clancy," he said, "remember the other day when you said that I was going thirty-five miles an hour? When I tried to argue with you, you told me not to talk back to the law! Well, I'm the law here, and you're out."

"And now," queried his best girl anxiously, "did you acquit yourself in Paris?"

The ex-doughboy looked disturbed.

"I didn't know you'd got wise to that," he answered, "I didn't acquit myself. They gimme two months."

They were in the midst of the most thrilling part of "The Treasure of Mystery Island."

"Say what you will, there is one thing about the silent drama that is particularly fine," said the old man, a lover of picturesque plays.

"And that is—?"

"The hero can't make the villain eat his words."

AN ADDRESS WORTHY THE BEST MOMENTS OF WASHINGTON AND LINCOLN.

The address of President Harding at the opening of the Washington Conference so expressed the emotions and feelings of mankind, that we make no apology for using this column to give some extracts from it. Maybe you will want to preserve it.

"It is not possible to over-appraise the importance of such a conference. It is no unseemly boast, no disparagement of other nations, which, though not represented, are held in highest respect, to declare that the conclusions of this body will have a signal influence on all human progress—on the fortunes of the world. Here is a meeting, I can well believe, which is an earnest of the awakened conscience of twentieth century civilization. It is not a convention of remorse, nor a session of sorrow. It is not the conference of victors to define terms of settlement. Nor is it a council of nations seeking to remake humankind. It is rather a coming together, from all parts of the earth, to apply the better attributes of mankind to minimize the faults in our international relationships. Speaking as official sponsor for the invitation, I think I may say that call is not of the United States of America alone, it is rather the spoken word of a war-weary world, struggling for restoration, hungering and thirsting for better relationship; of humanity crying for relief and craving assurance of lasting peace. . . . Here in the United States we are but freshly turned from the burial of an Unknown American Soldier, when a nation sorrowed while paying him tribute. Whether it was spoken or not, a hundred millions of our people were summarizing the inexcusable causes, the incalculable cost, the unspeakable sacrifices, and the unutterable sorrows, and there was the ever impelling question: How can humanity justify or God forgive? Human hate demands no such toll; ambition and greed must be denied it. . . . Inherent rights are of God, and the tragedies of the world originate in their attempted denial. . . . Gentlemen of the Conference, the United States welcomes you with unselfish hands. We harbor no fears; we have no sordid ends to serve; we suspect no enemy; we contemplate or apprehend no conquest. Content with what we have, we seek nothing which is another's. We only wish to do with you that finer, nobler thing which no nation can do alone. We wish to sit with you at the table of international understanding and good will. In good conscience we are eager to meet you frankly, and invite and offer co-operation. The world demands a sober contemplation of the existing order and the realization that there can be no cure without sacrifice, not by one of us, but by all of us. . . . Nothing can be accomplished in disregard of national apprehensions. Rather, we should act together to remove the causes of apprehensions. This is not to be done in intrigue. Greater assurance is found in the exchanges of simple honesty and directness, among men resolved to accomplish as becomes leaders among nations, when civilization itself has come to its crucial test. . . . If the finer sentiments were not urging, the cold, hard facts of excessive cost and the eloquence of economics urge us to reduce our armaments. If the concept of a better order does not appeal, then let us ponder the burden and the blight of continued competition. . . . I can speak officially only for our United States. Our hundred millions frankly want less of armament and none of war. Wholly free from guile, sure in our own minds that we harbor no unworthy designs, we accredit the world with the same good intent. So I welcome you, not alone in good will and high purpose, but with high faith. We are met here for a service to mankind. In all simplicity, in all honesty and all honor, there may be written here the avowals of a world conscience refined by the consuming fires of war, and made more sensitive by the anxious aftermath. I hope for that understanding which will emphasize the guarantees of peace, and for commitments to less burdens and a better order which will tranquilize the world. In such an accomplishment there will be added glory to your flags and ours, and the rejoicing of mankind will make the transcending music of all succeeding time."

"TEETH" IN ANTI-TRUST LAW.

Although the Sherman Anti-Trust Law has been on the statute books for more than thirty years and countless prosecutions, many of them of a criminal nature, have been brought under its provisions, it has remained until now for any one to go to jail for violating it. Dissolutions and fines have up to the present time been the only penalty inflicted. But Federal Judge William C. Van Fleet, in New York, meted out prison sentences to four business men active in the so-called "Tie Trust," whose nefarious practices in restraint of trade were exposed along with other questionable methods in the building trades by the investigation of the Lockwood Committee. Three of these men were sentenced to four months in jail and the other to two months, all being fined in addition. As the four had pleaded guilty and cannot appeal, it virtually is certain they will find no way of evading their sojourn behind prison bars.

Well may the special prosecutor who argued these cases characterize Judge Van Fleet's action as constituting "a landmark in anti-trust enforcement in the United States." That is exactly what it is. Although it has been recognized always that the Sherman law constituted a broad and elastic instrument for defining and correcting improper trade practices, it is questionable whether the public has acquired much confidence that the remedies it has provided were practical.

In other words, the public became convinced there were no "teeth" in the Sherman law, and it lost interest in the law except as to whether or not the missing "teeth" could be put in. Judge Van Fleet has done that for us. With four jail sentences imposed, even if they are short ones, the Sherman law will enter upon a new status. It remains to be seen whether, under that status, it will not be a much more effective deterrent than it ever was before to the practices it is designed to prevent.—Public Ledger.

GETTING READY TO REDECORATE THE FLAT

1901--Twenty Years Ago--1921

Mr. George McDonald, who was one of the stone cutters on the Court House in this city, and who has been employed for some time at Memphis, Tenn., has finished up his work at the latter place and has returned to Xenia.

Mrs. O. E. Bales returned home last night from a trip through Illinois, and other western points.

The Casino dancing club, composed of Messrs. Harry Piers, George Tiffany, Ralph Chambliss and John Harris, will give their grand opening ball at the rink, Tuesday evening.

Mary Q. C.—Massage the ankles with cocoa butter which will fatten them. The preparation you mention is a patent article and I do not know what it contains.

Jane L.—You will have to wait until nature restores your hair to its natural color. You had better have some of it cut off, than to try any more experiments to even the shades. Dampening the hair before rolling on the curlers will not affect it beyond making a tighter curl as it dries.

ANSWERED LETTERS

H. A. R.—There is no other way to restore the hair to grey but to wait for new growth and the natural process of the bleaching out of the dye.

Y. W. G.—You are about 30 pounds below the average weight for your height and age. But you have many years still in which to grow so there is no reason why you should be concerned.

C. B. G. F.—The formula for the eyebrow tonic will be mailed to you if you send a stamped addressed envelope.

Fair One.—If powder does not adhere to the skin on your nose, try using a cream first, which is not a vanishing cream. If you care to make such a cream, I will be glad to mail you the formula.

Beatrice.—Massage the calves of your legs until you reduce them to the size you desire. Use a motion much the same as kneading.

Sarah E.—If the skin is loose and the muscles flabby, it shows that the system is run down. If this condition followed reduction through some rapid process, consult the doctor about it. Reducing the weight slowly through a choice in foods will not leave one flabby, but will tone up the system as the excess weight is being consumed.

B. M. M.—With brown eyes and a clear olive skin the hair could be the shade of henna; however, if nature has given you the rich chestnut shade which usually goes with this combination, you will not improve your appearance by making any change.

R. W. B.—There is no reason why you should not regain your hair, even though you are almost 70 years of age. Your health must have improved by reason of these operations and the growth of hair depends upon general health, plus cultivation. REFRESHMENTS.

The Volstead law is on the books; it's there for keeps, I think; and wise men seek the babbling brooks when they would have a drink. For wise men know we cannot choose the laws that we'll obey; the ordinance forbidding booze has come, and come to stay; an epoch dry as dust has dawned, a juiceless age is born, and we must journey to the pond to get our morning horn. Oh, yes, in alley or in slum we yet may stain our breath, and buy a flask of bottled rum that's labeled Sudden Death; but who's so thirsty he'd elect to drink such booze, gadzooks? And who can keep his self respect, and train with low down crooks? The Volstead law is not a dream, it largely looms, like fate; and we must seek the crystal stream when we would irrigate. Good citizens are earnest guys who bow to all the laws, though they may think some are unwise, and full of fatal flaws. They say, "To all the laws we'll yield as blithely as we may; if they are punk they'll be repealed, and if they're good they'll stay and he who'd flout them is a chump he bores us with his yawns; and we shall journey to the pump to get our forty drops."

Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs

By Mrs. George Elliott McCormick.

OF MAJOR IMPORTANCE

That the child welfare division of the Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs is of major importance this year, as in former years, is the opinion voiced by the head of the child welfare department, Dr. Josephine Peirce, of Lima. This division of the state federation not only has a particularly broad scope of work embracing universal child health, but it carries a program of such forward looking plans and standards for those phases of child life that include and emphasize the outstanding need of education, play work and community environment of the most wholesome character.

Dr. Peirce asks federated clubs in Ohio to organize child welfare divisions. She wants them to initiate child welfare work, include child welfare topics on all yearly programs and to keep step with the national and state welfare departmental work.

Much constructive work can be done by furnishing milk to underweight school children and in equipping the schools with scales, charts, etc., Dr. Peirce points out. "Teach children the value of vegetables and try to develop a desire or taste for them," she says. "Supervise playgrounds have an important place in the child-welfare program."

"Every club woman ought to become fully informed on the contents of and the purposes of the Bing compulsory education and child labor law. I suggest its consideration and discussion through the club meetings. I would urge for the coming year the extending and enlarging of the child-health program, cooperation with the state division of charities and a closer sympathetic relationship with our schools and teachers."

In Akron club women are placing much stress on their aim, "Teaching Motherhood as a Profession," and dwelling especially on "How to Tell the Story of Life."

"Our work this year is of the kind that demands self-sacrifice on the part of the workers," writes Leah C. Chittenden, secretary of the Home and School League at Akron, "but believing that the children are our greatest national asset we believe our work has not been in vain."

"IS IT WORTH WHILE?" That was the theme of Mrs. Cornelius S. Selover's address at Troy recently when more than 200 attended a reception conducted by the Altruistic club in honor of the state federation's president, Mrs. Allen Marshall of Piqua, state treasurer and Mrs. C. G. Snook, of Troy, vice president of the Northwest district, were also honor guests.

"The question is often asked 'Is it worth while—the hours, days, weeks and months that stretch out into years of service?' Mrs. Selover began her charming address after being presented by Mrs. Addison Broomhall of Troy, past president of the Pioneers. "The answer is found in the individual's viewpoint," Mrs. Selover continued. "The federation has proved to be an escape valve for the tidal wave of women's desire and that, in my estimation, has done more to promote friendships, charitableness toward one another and inside rather than outside development than any other agency."

The new head of Ohio federated club women added that women get out of the club in the same proportion as they contribute toward it and asserted that the acquisition of knowledge is not to be compared with the friendships gained. She climaxed her remarks by saying that during the 30 years of her active club service she "had drunk deeply from the fountain of love," and that "written in gold letters across her heart are words: It is worth while."

Mrs. Selover was a guest at a supper to 200 guests at the Piqua High school building during November, the event being arranged by the Piqua federation for Mrs. Selover and Mrs. Snook. Talks were made by Mrs. Selover, Mrs. Snook, Mrs. Broomhall and the Piqua public school superintendent, George Dietrich.

MARION LECTURE-RECITAL CLUB

The Marion Lecture-Recital Club the evening of Nov. 28 at the Central Junior High School auditorium presented Irene J. Gardner, pianiste of the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music and the Columbus Woman's Music Club Trio in a delightful program that drew hundreds of Marion's music-loving people. The trio is made up of Maybell Dunn Hopkins, violin; Mabel Stephanson, cello, and Frances Beal, piano.

HEAVY DAMAGE CAUSED BY FLOOD

Huntington, W. Va., Nov. 29.—Heavy damage was caused early today when Four Pole creek, an Ohio river tributary, overflowed. City parks were damaged, boulevards washed out and small bridges swept away.

Cold weather which stopped the rain is believed to have prevented a serious flood on the Ohio river. The stage was 36 feet this morning with the river slowly rising. A stage of over 40 feet will be reached.

LIQUOR CONFISCATED
Ashland, Nov. 29.—Liquor, worth $1,000, were confiscated as a result of a raid by State Prohibition Inspectors J. H. Gardner and T. W. Brown, assisted by Sheriff Cahries Barr, on the home of Adam Lemel, at Londonville. Lemel was fined $1.00.

CLEVELAND STARTS CLEAN UP AGAINST ALL UNDESIRABLES

Cleveland, Nov. 29.—Cleveland today is in the midst of the greatest clean up of "undesirables" in years, following a series of bold crimes, in which one patrolman and a citizen were murdered and several others robbed and beaten. More than 700 persons have been brought in, in the police dragnet since Police Chief Frank W. Smith issued his clean up order and assumed personal command of the men engaged in carrying it out. Most of those arrested are charged with minor offenses, such as intoxication and vagrancy but police believe they have now behind the bars in police stations and the city prison many guilty of serious crimes and every effort will be made to sift out the criminals from the unfortunate and halt the crime wave.

All places of general resort of criminals are being watched and those unable to give a good account of their actions are being taken to police stations for further questioning.

RESIGNS POSITION

Zanesville, Nov. 29.—Miss Martha Ann Aiken, newspaperwoman, has resigned to become publicity director for Ohio headquarters, Cleveland, of the Near East Relief.

THE USUAL RESULT

Rayland, Nov. 29.—John Stringer, Jr., 14, found a revolver in the basement. He and another boy took it to the rear of the schoolhouse to examine it, with the usual result. The bullet entered his foot.

XENIA SEMINARY NOTES

St. Louis, Mo.—(Special)—Rev. James L. Kelso of Bloomington, Indiana, visited the seminary Nov. 15 and 16, and favored the students with three very interesting lectures on the Roman Influence on the New Testament. Mr. Kelso has made a special study of this subject, having taken his Master's Degree in it. The students considered themselves very fortunate in having an opportunity to hear these instructive lectures from one who is an authority on the subject.

The Xenian, the new seminary paper, has met with the hearty approval of its friends. One among the many who have written their congratulations says, "I want to congratulate you and the seminary on the launching of 'The Xenian.' Just the thing." "The Xenian" published last year by two members of the middle class, served its purpose among the students; but it was the general opinion this year that an effort should be made to widen the scope of the school paper. A board of control was elected and a staff chosen. Eight issues will appear during the school year. On November 18 the subscription list had reached 225 with the immediate prospect for many more. Jas. R. Lee is the editor and M. V. Watson is the business manager.

The men of the seminary are very fortunate in having a constant privilege of presenting the Gospel in many of the churches in and near St. Louis. Not only are we thus favored by the United Presbyterianians, but churches from practically all of the evangelical denominations have shown their faith in our school by extending to us invitations to bring to them the Word of God. The preaching committee is endeavoring to be of the most possible service both to the student and to those whom they serve.

Dr. H. C. Chambers, the new Candidate Secretary of the Foreign Mission Board, visited the seminary a short time ago in an effort to secure additional recruits for our foreign Mission fields.

Shortly after Dr. Chambers' visit Mr. Chester T. Hartlett, one of the traveling secretaries of the Student Volunteer Union was in St. Louis and while here met with the student volunteers.

Dr. M. G. Kyle has been conducting a highly interesting series of short talks learned from "Lives of Service." The last fifteen minutes of the weekly Y. M. C. A. meeting is given over to Dr. Kyle for these talks.

The four pulpits of the United Presbyterian Churches were supplied on Sabbath evening, Nov. 13 by our professors. As was the custom last year one Sabbath evening of each month will be given over to the professors. Those who preach this month were: Mr. Nesbitt at the First, Dr. Webster at the Second, Dr. M. G. Kyle at the Third, and Dr. Wishart at Gibson Heights.

EAGLES TURN GOOD SUM TO RED CROSS

Xenia Aerie, No. 1689, Fraternal Order of Eagles, turned over $210.50 to the Greene County Chapter of the American Red Cross as the result of the recent benefit movie given at the Bijou Theater.

This is the report of Joseph Feally, secretary of the Eagles, who had charge of the Eagle benefit. The lodgemen issued and sold tickets for the performance, and packed houses greeted the presentation of the film.

At the two matinee showing 600 children from the Ohio Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans' Home were guests of the Eagles at the movie. The Eagles young guests enjoyed the movie immensely, and the benefit thus served a double purpose.

WILL START SALE OF TUBERCULOSIS SEALS ON THURSDAY

The sale of Anti-Tuberculosis Seals, will begin in this city, Thursday Mrs. Mary M. Meredith, chairman of the seal sale in Xenia city, is announcing a systematic plan for the drive, which will cover each phase of the city's activities.

The sale of the seals in the stores, banks and postoffice will begin Tuesday, the drive for the different organizations, clubs, lodges, industries, American Legion and schools to be started Thursday.

Twelve chairmen for the sale in the stores, banks and postoffice have been appointed by Mrs. Meredith. The chairman will appoint sixteen workers, eight for the morning and the same number for the afternoon work, during the drive.

A chairman for the lodges, business houses, industries, American Legion, schools and clubs has been appointed, who will cooperate with the members of the organization in aiding the drive.

Mrs. James Wilson, who was chairman of the seal sale drive in 1920, has been appointed a chairman of the campaign. Mrs. Wilson has appointed a chairman for each township who will organize an effective plan of selling the seals. Under the leadership of Mrs. Wilson, the sale last year totaled $650. A definite quota for Xenia city and Greene County has not been announced for 1921.

It is important for purposes of the Fifth Annual Red Cross Roll Call, that there be a distinct understanding by all Roll Call workers and the general public, to the exact relationship between the American Red Cross and the National Tuberculosis Association in the matter of the sale of the seals, it is pointed out.

Just prior to the Fourth Roll Call, it was agreed that the National Tuberculosis Association would not use the Red Cross emblem or title to avoid confusion. Since that time there has been no official connection between the campaign of the National Tuberculosis Association and that of the American Red Cross.

FUNERAL SERVICES AT WILBERFORCE

The funeral services of the late Dr. Thomas Henry Jackson, D. D., noted churchman and theologian of Payne Theological Seminary of Wilberforce University and the last surviving member of the three graduates, Rev. W. T. Welch of Chattanooga, Tenn., and Rev. J. T. Jennifer of Chicago, of the first graduating class in 1870, were held Tuesday afternoon at 1 o'clock in the auditorium of Galloway Hall.

Many distinguished ministers from Kentucky, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, and Ohio, North Ohio, West Virginia and Pittsburgh conferences came to pay their respects to their friend who labored for more than 50 years in the conferences named.

The remains were removed from the late residence to the auditorium and lay in state from nine o'clock to noon, where guards of honor from members of the Masonic Order and students of the seminary had charge. Five hundred people silently marched down the aisles with bowed heads and tears, viewed the remains of the man, who for many years worked and gave his life for the school.

The steel gray-covered casket was heavily laden with beautiful floral designs given by the General Faculty, students, Sunday School, the Y. M. C. A., the Y. W. C. A. and other class organizations of the school. Members of North Street A. M. E. Church, of Springfield, and of St. John's Church of Cleveland sent designs in honor of his work while pastoring in the two cities soon after graduating in 1870.

Rev. John A. Gregg, president of the university, acted as Master of Ceremonies. Rev. P. S. Hill, of Trinity A. M. E. Church, read scriptural quotations and the prayer was made by Rev. W. B. Lee, Presiding Elder of the Springfield District of the North Ohio Conference. Rev. T. D. Scott, of Springfield, read the scripture lesson. Rev. E. A. Clark of Cleveland read telegrams from Bishop B. F. Lee, Troy, Alabama, Bishops John A. Hurst and J. Albert Johnson of Baltimore, Md., Bishop L. J. Coppin of Philadelphia and resolutions from the General Faculty and Payne Theological Seminary. Letters were read from graduates of the seminary.

Supr. W. M. Berry and Mr. Charles Points, Jr., sang "Whispering Hope." Rev. R. B. Smith of Camden, N. J., read the obituary, "Lead Kindly Light," was sung by the University Vesper choir. The sermon was delivered by the Rt. Rev. J. H. Jones, Bishop of the Third Episcopal District and a life long friend of the deceased. At the conclusion of the funeral discourse, remarks were made by Bishop W. H. Heard of Philadelphia. Dean Geo. F. Woodson and Rev. Geo. F. David of Lexington, Ky. The service was then turned over to the members of Wilberforce F. and A. M. Lodge, No. 21, and the Worshipful Master, Mr. T. Howard, conducted the ritualistic work of the Masonic Order. The concluding services and interment were held at Tarbox Cemetery.

CALL FOR PLAYERS FOR BASKETBALL GETS THIRTY SEVEN

Thirty-seven candidates responded to Coach Jerry Katherman's first call for basketball practice at the Rink, Monday evening, increasing the possibilities of a court team that will rank in accomplishments with the football team which recently closed its season.

Although only one regular from last year's team survived graduation, the squad of green material that turned out is assurance that Coach Katherman will have plenty of material to work with to develop a good quintette. Included in this material are a number of players who acted as substitutes, and members of the second and third string squads last year, and who are thus bringing valuable experience to the afternoon practice sessions.

Paul Boxwell, star of the football team this season is captain of the basketball team, elected last year, and is the only surviving member of the five that won success at the indoor game last season. Captain LeSourd and Hudson at the forwards, Moore at center and Owens at guard were the regulars last season who graduated in June. Captain Boxwell played guard and will likely continue to perform in that position.

Edward Reutinger, is basketball manager this season having been elected last year. He is a senior and played on the foot ball team this fall.

Rheumatism

Can Be Cured.

But You Must Clear Your Blood of Waste Products.

Lack of exercise and improper diet cause waste products to accumulate in the blood. You will at once realize that unless the blood is pure, some part of the body will become diseased.

Rheumatism, with its pain and agony, is one of the most serious diseases caused by waste products in the blood. You know, of course, the blood is not confined alone to the arteries and veins. It passes out of these channels to all parts of the body. This is how sediments or waste products are deposited in the muscles and joints. Genuine relief can be had only by correcting the basic trouble—waste products.

Thousands and thousands of men and women during the past 50 years have cleared their blood of waste products with S. S. S. It is the ideal remedy for rheumatism, because it removes the poisonous waste matter which is causing the trouble. There are no bad after effects and the result is wonderful. Begin taking S. S. S. today and write for 54 page illustrated booklet, "Facts About the Blood"—free. Personal medical advice, without charge may also be had by sending a complete description of your case. YOU TAKE A CHANCE WHEN YOU BUY A SUBSTITUTE FOR VINOL

It may contain something that is "just the wrong thing" for your case. You cannot tell because its formula is a secret. On every Vinol label is plainly printed everything it contains, you know just what you are taking, you can even show the formula to your doctor and get his approval. Any doctor will tell you that no better body builder and strength creator can be made.

Then why experiment on yourself for the benefit of someone else. I would not. I always want to know what any medicine I have to take contains before I will take it into my stomach.

For 20 years Vinol has been sold in this city and hundreds of your neighbors have been benefitted by it. Isn't it wise to stick to an old friend whom you have found true and reliable? No medicine ever made has a better reputation for the "square deal" than Vinol. It has always been sold on the guarantee that if it did not help the patient his money would be returned—and it has always had its formula plainly printed on the label so people may know not only what a wonderful formula it is—but know positively what they are taking.

If you need a body building strength creator, or want to break up a cold or cough no amount of money can buy a better medicine for this purpose than Vinol. We back up this statement by saying if you are not satisfied after taking Vinol go and get your money back from the druggist who sold it to you. Isn't that fair? Now it is up to you.

FATHER OF FORMER GOVERNOR BURIED

Camden, Nov. 29.—Funeral services for Gilbert Cox, 88, father of former Governor James M. Cox, who died Sunday, at his home in Camden, were held Tuesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at the late residence and burial was made in the Camden Cemetery.

Mr. Cox was the son of the late Gilbert Cox, an early settler in Butler county, and was born on the home farm, April 25, 1833. He built the first brick house in Wayne township Montgomery county, and was a direct descendant of Thomas Cox, who emigrated to this country from England in 1681.

Surviving him are seven children: Mrs. John Q. Baker, of Middletown; William Cox, of Florida; Scott, James M. and John, of Dayton; Charles, of Detroit, Mich.; Mrs. William Roskopf, of Dayton. A sister, Mrs. Letta Kelly, who is 92 years of age, also survives. The funeral services were in charge of the Rev. J. W. Kilbourne, pastor of the High Street United Brethren Church, Dayton.

ADVICE FOR WOMEN WHO SUFFER.

"I advise every woman who suffers with kidney trouble to try Foley Kidney Pills," writes Mrs. Bessie Bramer, 2522 Scoville Ave., Cleveland, O. "I could not do my housework, but since taking Foley Kidney Pills I feel like a new woman and am able to do my work." Rheumatic pains, swollen ankles, backache, stiff joints, sore muscles and sleep disturbing bladder ailments indicate disordered kidneys. Foley Kidney Pills act promptly. Sayre & Hemphill.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No gripping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth"—bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver—constipation—you'll find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take them every night just to keep right. Try them. 15c and 30c.

GLASS OF SALTS CLEANS KIDNEYS

If your Back is aching or Bladder bothers, drink lots of water and eat less meat.

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore, don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salts which removes the body's urinous waste and stimulates them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this, also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache.

FIND HACK SAWS IN CLARK COUNTY JAIL FOLLOWING TIP

Springfield, O., Nov. 29.—As a result of an attempted jail delivery at the Clark county jail, Sheriff Jones has three people under arrest on charges of smuggling hack saws into the jail, and is minus two deputies whom he has fired as an indirect result of the proposed delivery, it is alleged.

When the sheriff received a tip that a jail delivery was contemplated, he found ten hack saws hidden in cells, and hinges on doors partly sawed through. Warrants were issued for three people who have been locked up, charged with smuggling in the saws.

Jones has fired Chief Deputy Sheriff Foster Landaker, and Miss Leona Yeazell, a deputy serving without compensation. Jones claimed he attempted to reach Landaker at Memorial hall, Saturday afternoon, to assist him in searching the jail but could not locate him after calling fifteen times. When he rebuked Landaker, an argument ensued and the sheriff asked for the deputy's badge. When Miss Yeazell interfered in Landaker's behalf the sheriff also requested her badge.

Jones says Landaker was not loyal to him and was seeking to be sheriff.

BE RID OF THAT ACHE

If you are a sufferer with lame back, backache, dizziness, nervousness and kidney disorders, why don't you try the remedy that your own neighbors recommend?

Mrs. Leo Ledbetter, 167 Hill St., Xenia, says: "I was miserably run down, especially when I arose in the morning. My back was weak and the least exertion tired me. I bought Doan's Kidney Pills at Sayre & Hemphill's Drug Store and received immediate relief. It was but a short time until Doan's cured me entirely of this trouble. The fact that I have not had any symptom for several years gives me reason to believe that Doan's have effected a permanent cure."

Mrs. Ledbetter gave the above statement Aug. 2, 1917, and on Aug. 15, 1921, she added: "I am very glad to again recommend so reliable a kidney remedy as Doan's Kidney Pills. They have made a permanent cure for me and I have had no occasion to use Doan's since they cured me several years ago. I am glad to confirm my statement of 1917." 60c. at all dealers. YOU PAY-USE-LESS

Don't try to save money buying cheap or big-can Baking Powders. You can't do it. You'll throw out more in spoiled bakings than you save on price of the powder. And don't think that old style high priced powders are best because they cost most. They are not.

has proved in millions of bake-day tests that it is the best baking powder ever made—that's why it is the biggest selling baking powder in the world today. No other baking powder makes such temptingly good—tender wholesome bakings. No baking powder of anywhere near the same quality is sold at such a low price.

You use less of Calumet—because it is the highest grade baking powder. One teaspoonful is equal to two teaspoonfuls of many other brands.

And there is no "luck" about it when you use Calumet. No loss. It is absolutely sure. It is the most economical of all. Millions of housewives use it—and so do leading domestic science teachers and cooking experts.

You save when you buy it—You save when you use it. Calumet contains only such ingredients as have been approved officially by the U. S. Food Authorities.

A pound can of Calumet contains full 16 oz. Some baking powders come in 12 oz cans instead of 16 oz. cans. Be sure you get a pound when you want it.

PUBLIC OFFICES TO BE INSPECTED ONCE A MONTH

Monthly inspection and supervision of public offices from the state department of examination of public funds, will ensue with a new plan of redistricting examiners, being put in effect by State Auditor Tracy, according to J. S. Clifton, state examiner, who is winding up his work of examining books in the Court House this week.

Under the plan, says Mr. Clifton, the township examiners have been eliminated and the county and township offices placed under one set of examiners, and city offices under another group of examiners. The entire state has been redistricted, the county and township work being divided into fifteen districts, of which Mr. Clifton will have charge of one district of four counties, consisting of Greene, Montgomery, Clark and Preble counties. According to the provisions of the new system, the chief examiner will be required to visit the county and township offices in his district at least once every month. On these visits, he will see that the officials are efficient and honest, and will give them instructions or assistance in straightening their accounts if they become confused in the operation of their offices.

It is Mr. Clifton's belief that this system will eliminate many shortages that exist in accounts for the reason that the public official will anticipate the examiner's visit each month and will strive to have his accounts straight and his books in order, and further that officials inclined to confusion in their accounts or dishonesty or irregularities, will be discovered immediately and advised or removed from office.

Mr. Clifton believes that the new system will eliminate the old trouble of an examiner not visiting the offices some times for several years after a shortage has been found, which results often in the next examination finding the same condition. Under the new plan the township examiners will be eliminated, and there will be fewer examiners necessary, one for each county and each city district, and one at large to assist in any district necessary, being the total force necessary under the new plan. The plan will also provide for more frequent and closer supervision in an attempt to prevent irregularities, rather than correct them.

ANSWERED LETTERS

K. M. B.: "Please tell me how to remove spots from pieces of ivory furniture which have been left near open windows."

Answer: Do you mean real ivory or ivory-colored paint? Real ivory may be bleached by wetting with alcohol or water and placing in the direct sunlight under glass, this process being repeated until the desired degree of whiteness is obtained; but this bleaching is usually done when ivory has become yellowed, not to remove spots from it. If you refer to furniture painted ivory-white, washing with luke-warm suds of a good white soap, then rinsing with clear warm water ought to remove the spots.

A Yearly Contributor: "My brown leather dining room chairs are covered with white fluff from the clothing of people who sat on them in the hot weather. How shall I remove this fluff and how prevent the chairs from sticking to clothing next summer?"

Answer: Remove the fluff with a little gasoline and paint the chairs with white shellac.

Mrs. T.: "I am necessary to call on ones hostess within two weeks after attending her bridge party? 2. If so, how many cards are left? 3. What other functions call for cards, and how many? 4. Just when does a woman leave her husband's cards beside the first call?"

Answer: 1. Yes. 2. One for the hostess. 3. A dinner, a breakfast, a luncheon, a musicale, an evening party, and after a wedding the guests call on the mother of the bride and later, on the bride herself. 4. Only after her husband has been entertained along with herself. Miss F. J. R.: "Kindly print recipes for Mexican Chile Con Carne and Orange Marmalade."

Answer: A recipe for the Chile Con Carne appeared in this column on Oct. 1st. Get a back copy of this paper for that date. Here is the other recipe you wish:

Orange Marmalade: To make 6 glasses of it, take 6 large oranges, wash, and weigh them. They should weigh around three pounds, and if this is so set aside 2 1/4 pounds of granulated sugar—to be added later. Sift the peel of the oranges into quarter sections and pull off this peel with the fingers, putting it into the preserving kettle with 1 quart of boiling water and letting it simmer for 1 1/2 hour—when it will be soft and pliable. Drain the water from the peel and let it, the peel cool slightly.

While the peel cools, wash out the kettle and put into it small pieces of the oranges from which you previously removed the peel; discard the seeds from this orange pulp, and also throw away the tough white fibre between the pulp sections—although small pieces of it may, of course, remain in. Now, after putting the pulp from the entire six oranges into the kettle, add to it the thick white underpart of the cooked peel quarters; it is this thick white which lies under an orange's skin that contains "pectin"—that substance which makes the marmalade thicken. Now take a pair of scissors and cut the peel into thin strips—add only half the amount of peel-quarters unless you like the marmalade bitter. Put the kettle on fire, bring to boiling point, all the sugar you set aside, and let boil for 2 hours then turn it into hot, sterilized glasses or jars and seal or cover with paraffine.

THE NEW GENERATION

JOAN RECEIVES A TERRIBLE FRIGHT CHAPTER 100.

When Craig Forrester hung up the receiver after Margaret had told him she couldn't go with him because of Joan and Malcolm, he turned away, a deep frown on his clever face.

"That girl!" he exclaimed with more force than eloquence. "She and her gang are always getting the best of me." Then he laughed a bit at his own vehemence, as he added, "but she can't frighten me away. Margaret's worth waiting for, and I shall wait. Something may happen. I only wish Joan would fall in love with Ted Walters, or someone."

He had but, echoed a wish that lay unspoken upon Margaret's lips, the more insistently because of an incident that had happened a few days before.

Joan had suddenly thought she would like to see her mother, also she had thought a walk might help her to gather her thoughts that had been straying all the day. Try as she would she had been unable to fix them upon the article she was writing and that she had promised to deliver a certain time.

Because it was late when she started, about half past 8 and Margaret's home some distance, it was nearly an hour later when she turned into the park. She had walked slowly, her thoughts wandering.

As she walked along with the straggling crowd, she seemed for the first time to sense something of the loneliness of life—as it never before had occurred to her. She felt a certain stirring in her breast, a longing for the spice of romance.

In front of her walked a boy and a girl, no older than she, and yet she knew by the way they walked, her arm in his, his head bent to her, that they were lovers.

She had not intended to go through the park, but she followed the lovers. They soon found a bench and Joan went on alone. At first she didn't feel the difference, then the feeling of loneliness crept over her again. It was very dark and silent in some places she passed, she never had been timid, but there had been a good deal of lawlessness of late, and she hastened her steps. Suddenly she was aware of footsteps behind her. When last she had looked there had been no one on the walk, but she had just passed a wooded spot—wherever it was might have been lurking there. She was nearly at the 8th Avenue entrance and hurried a bit faster, breathing quick-

His steps grew nearer, and she had all she could do to repress the instinct to run, to scream. Suddenly he spoke to her. She was frightened anew, and became terrified when he clutched her sleeve.

"Ain't it late for you to be out in the park alone, Miss? Ain't you got any sweetheart?" he asked with a leer. Just then they passed a street light, dim, yet showing his features. A typical tough, but Joan saw at a glance he was neither ragged or dirty—he was no beggar, no one who needed help in a city full of needy men.

He was asking her if she didn't want company, if he couldn't see her home.

"It ain't safe for a pretty girl like you to be in the park so late—alone," he said coming closer to her side, but first looking keenly about.

"He's looking for a policeman," Joan thought. Then as he again turned to her with even more of a swagger, she knew he had seen no one. "I'll take you home, honey. Where do you live?" he tucked his big hand under her elbow.

For the first time in her sheltered life the careless self-sufficient Joan Hayden was so frightened she could not speak. She glanced back as she tried to jerk away from him. Not a soul in sight! Why had she done this foolish thing? No conventional girl would put herself in such a position. Gathering all her strength she said: "You let go of my arm or I shall call a policeman."

"No you won't, my pretty, not more'n once, for I'll stop you."

Just then she heard footsteps coming toward them. Evidently her companion was too busily engaged with himself, and trying to keep her in fear of him to notice. Just as they turned around a curve in the path, Joan called out. The tough gave one look at the man approaching then with a curse such as Joan never had heard, he disappeared in the shrubbery.

"What is it—why, Joan!" "Mr. Forrester! Thank God!" and as she clung to him hysterically, the self-sufficient Joan told her story. Craig wanted to go back and find the man, but she begged him to take her to her mother. She felt like a little child afraid of the dark, and satisfied only when holding her mother's hand.

"The gods are sometimes kind," Forrester said to himself. "If it had to happen, I am glad I was her rescuer," he smiled at his thoughts. Tomorrow—A Play, Supper and Dance.

The U. S. ROYAL CORD TIRE

Unquestionably the outstanding merchandising success of the year—both in the eyes of the trade and of the car-owner.

When the U. S. books close for 1921, they will show U. S. Royal Cord sales nearly doubled over 1920.

What U. S. Tires say and do commands a greater audience than any other line of tires in the world.

Where is the tire dealer headed for in 1922

ALONG about this time of the year the tire-dealer is a much called upon man.

Probably a dozen different "Agencies" for a dozen different tires are hopefully spread before him.

But when he gets off by himself and starts to think he finds out that most so-called Agency Franchises are hardly more than permission to invest his money in this brand or that brand at his own risk.

Consider now—not what is said in behalf of the U. S. Tire Sales and Service Agreement—but what it does.

Consider general conditions for the past year. And note everywhere that U. S. Tire dealers have been the least affected of all.

Observe how generally the U. S. Tire dealer is respected. Not alone by the public but by his local competitors.

The U. S. Tire dealer always knows where he is at. Right now—or in making his plans for 1922.

He can always put his hands on the U. S. consistent merchandising policy.

Where the U. S. Sales Franchise separates from the rest and asserts its prerogatives are in these things—

It brings to the dealer's store the greatest and most loyal tire-audience anywhere.

It supports the dealer with the most constructive and courageous publicly expressed policies today.

It carries the prestige of the U. S. Royal Cord Tire and the "USCO" Tread.

It is the most sought after Franchise in the whole tire trade.

U. S. dealers will be the ranking tire-merchants of 1922. Not only in profits returned, but in local reputation as business citizens.
